

Call for Papers

The Quill: An Inter-disciplinary Journal of Humanities and Social Sciences is a literary endeavor of Pub Kamrup College, Baihata Charali, Assam, to bring out a compilation of scholarly articles and book reviews on issues pertaining to humanities and social sciences. The journal will be refereed and blind peer-reviewed and aims to promote interdisciplinary research. The fundamental goal of this journal is to encourage cross cultural explorations and subsequent innovation in academia through diversified research and learning. Scholars/ Faculties/ Independent Researchers are solicited to contribute to the journal. We look forward for your scholarly inputs and deliberations. We are including a wide range of areas, which is suggestive and not exclusive, for our first issue of the journal:

- Gender and Identity
- Identity and Ethnicity
- Translation studies
- Violence and Body
- Children's Literature
- India's North-east
- Diasporic literature
- AI (Artificial Intelligence) and Ethics
- Eco-criticism
- Religion and spirituality
- Any other topic

Terms and Guidelines:

1. The journal is interdisciplinary and bi-lingual in nature. Contributors can submit their articles in both English and Assamese. Both UK and US spellings are accepted for the English articles. Authors should refrain from using racist and sexist terms.

2. Authors should use Times New Roman, 12pt font-size and lines must be double spaced for submissions in English. Gitanjali light, 14pt font-size should be adhered to, for submissions in Assamese.
3. An abstract of around 200-400 words along with keywords and a bio-note must accompany the submission.
4. MLA and APA style-sheet can be adhered to.
5. Word limit: 3000-4500 words including the Works Cited/ Reference section.
6. Book reviews should be within 1000-1200 words.
7. Submissions must be made in .docx and pagemaker format.
8. No publication fee will be charged for the first issue.
9. The journal will follow a blind peer-review system. Articles submitted elsewhere or considered for publication in any other journal, will not be considered here. We are strictly against simultaneous submissions.
10. Authors will be communicated about the status of their paper through their valid e-mail ID.
11. A 'Declaration by Author' has to be sent by the contributor, along with his/her article, vouching for the authenticity and originality of their research work.
12. Submissions should be sent in the following email ID:
thequilljournalpkc@gmail.com
13. Last date for submission of full paper/ book reviews is 30th of Dec, 2023.